Bank Examiner Goes Before Grand Jury

Summoning Of Other Witnesses Indicates Thorough Probe Of Bank Failures.—Sheriff After Barber.

R. E. Selby of Albany, a bank examiner, was a witness before the grand jury this morning. Mr. Selby was in charge of all three of the banks closed in this county, until a special deputy commissioner was appointed by the state finance department. There were several other witnesses before the grand jury today and it is evident that a thorough investigation of the failures is being made.

Sheriff Lowell Campbell left last night for Jefferson City to bring back Robert N. Barber, former Burlington Junction banker, now in the state penitentiary. It was thought Sheriff Campbell will return with Barber probably late tonight, driving here from St. Joseph. Barber will appear as a witness Wednesday morning. He will probably be returned to Jefferson City shortly after he has appeared as a witness.

LIBRARIANS TO CONVENE HERE

NUMBER EXPECTED TO ATTEND MEETING.

JOIN WITH TEACHERS

Separate Sessions To Be Held At Country Club and Elks Club—C. Edwin Wells Is President.

A number of librarians from various school and city libraries in Missouri are expected to attend the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Missouri Library Association, which convenes here next Thursday in connection with the meeting of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association.

Sessions will be held at the Country Club, the College auditorium and the Elks Club.

Next Friday morning the librarians will be given an automobile trip through the business and residential sections of Maryville, and a lunch will be served at the country club at noon.

Miss Jane Morey, secretary of the Missouri Library Commission and James A. McMillan, librarian at Washington University, St. Louis, are on the program which will be given at the country club next Friday afternoon.

Following the opening meeting Thursday morning, which will be a joint session with the teachers at the College auditorium, the afternoon session will be held at the Elks Club, with Charles H. Compton of St. Louis presiding. Milton J. Ferguson, state librarian of California; Miss Jane Morey, secretary of the Missouri Library Commission, Purd B. Wright, Kansas City, and I. R. Bundy of St. Joseph are on the program for addresses. Mr. Compton will outline the Missouri library extension program.

These two sessions will be the only separate meetings of the association.

C. Edwin Wells is president of the state association. Miss Frances Sandwick of Joplin is vice-president, Miss Faye Delaney of Monroe City, secretary, and Mrs. J. L. Lindsay of Poplar Bluff is treasurer. Miss Lucile Brumbaugh of Maryville is also a member of a committee to sponsor co-operation with the state parent-teacher association.

Outside Speakers for Sunday School Meeting

State Secretary Of Religious Education Organization To Be Here For Two-Day Convention.

H. W. Becker, secretary of the state organization of religious educational work, with offices at St. Louis; the Rev. Willard Carter, pastor of the First Congregation Church at Kansas City, and D. B. Atkinson, dean of Palmer College at Albany, will be principal speakers at the fourteenth annual convention of the Nodaway County Council of Religious Education here Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Various pastors from throughout Nodaway County will also be present and assist in the work.

All churches are expected to have representatives at the two-day convention here.

Mrs. John J. Lamar of Kansas City, is here visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Virgil Keene of Maryville.

"Peaches" and Her Cinderella Man Apart

Pretty 16-Year-Old Bride Has Gone Back To Her Mother And Browning Is At Hotel.

New York, Oct. 5.—"Peaches" Browning and her "Cinderella" man, Edward W. Browning, 51-year-old millionaire, have parted but neither of them could tell why today. The pretty 16-year-old bride has gone back to her mother. Browning, meanwhile, is at a local hotel looking careworn and agitated.

"I don't want to talk about this," he said. "All I will say is that I am going to be true to "Peaches," and I am going to be true to myself also."

He did not say why the girl bride left. There had been no quarrel, he said. He intimated that his bride was only away for a few days to visit her mother.

CALF SHOW IS BIGGEST EVER

NODAWAY COUNTY REPRESENTED AT ST. JOSEPH.

ENTRY LIST IS LARGE

More Than 400 Baby Beeves Are Being Shown This Week—Stock Judging Contests Today.

Nodaway County's entries in the Interstate Baby Beef Show being held this week in St. Joseph are competing against more than 400 calves, it was learned in Maryville today. The show, the seventh annual, and largest ever held, opened at the St. Joseph Stockyards with several hundred boys and girls, members of the county 4H Clubs, agriculture agents and college extension workers in attendance.

J. Ross Fleetwood, county farm agent, accompanied a car load of prize winning baby beeves to the show yesterday, arriving in St. Joseph early today. A number of the young cattle feeders, whose calves won prizes in the county show held here Saturday, also are attending the Interstate contests.

More than 700 animals from three states, Kansas, Iowa, and Missouri, have been entered in the show this year. Each animal has been raised by a boy or girl member of a Four-H club. About 426 baby beeves and 295 pigs have been placed in the entry list. The pig department is a new feature of the show this year.

Entries for the event began to arrive in St. Joseph last Saturday night, and were in their stalls by Monday afternoon.

The first event of the show was the Missouri boys' and girls' judging contest held this morning. Teams representing each calf club picked the best animal from a group. Nodaway County is being represented by Leon Brown, Raymond Crater, and Clifford Froyd.

The pig judging is being held this afternoon. F. W. Bell, professor of animal husbandry at the Kansas State Agricultural college, Manhattan, Kas., will be the judge. Five prizes are given for each of these classes: Single barrows, pens of three each, top litters, and county groups, which include five pens of three each.

Baby beef judging will begin at 9:30 o' clock Wednesday morning, with car lots. Individual Herefords will be judged at 11 a. m.; Aberdeen-Angus individuals, at 1:30 p. m.; Shorthorn individuals, at 2:30 p. m., and county groups at 4 p. m. F. H. Stemm of Chicago, head of the cattle buying department of Swift & Company, will judge the baby beef individuals, and Tob Cross of Chicago, head of the cattle buying department of Armour & Company, will judge the baby beef car lots and county groups.

The exhibitors of the show will be entertained at 7 o'clock tonight at the livestock exchange hall with a program of grames, songs and demonstrations, in charge of the extension departments of the state university. A banquet will be given by the St. Joseph Stockyards Company and Livestock Exchange for the boys and girls at 7 o'clock Wednesday night at the Transit House hotel.

Infant Born Last Night Dies Today

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Virnie King of Pickering died at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Fletchshaw, one mile east of Pickering. The baby was born last night.

FLOOD WATERS ARE RECEDING

BARTLESVILLE IS RECOVERING FROM HEAVY LOSSES.

CLOTHING IS NEEDED

Stricken Residents In Illinois Sections Urgently Appeal for Supplies—Damage To Be Huge.

Kansas City, Oct. 5.—Rivers were gradually receding today in the flood districts of Oklahoma and southern Kansas, according to reports received here.

Bartlesville, hardest hit by the swirling waters of Caney River, was recovering from heavy losses in lowland suburban sections. Only two had been drowned, those reported Sunday. Western Oklahoma rivers were slowly going down. Thousands of acres of land had been inundated along the tributaries to the Caney River. Livestock suffered untold damage. Estimates placed the damage in Oklahoma and Kansas above the two-million-dollar mark.

Beardstown, Ill., Oct. 5.—"Send clothing and blankets" was the plea from flood-stricken Beardstown today as the swollen Illinois River continued its invasion of the city.

The five hundred homeless face inadequate clothing if cooler weather comes on.

Relief organizations today are starting gathering stocks from the county of all Illinois. The river, which late last night appeared to have been at a standstill, again started its climb today and waters approaching the city from the rear were only fifty feet from the flood marching through the city from the river.

Meanwhile, an estimate places the property loss at well over a half-million dollars and still mounting. Homes are ruined and merchants' stocks of goods severely damaged.

Railroads Hard Hit by Recent Overflows

Wabash Detouring by Way of Darlington—Burlington May Resume Through Service Tomorrow.

Both the Burlington and Wabash railroads have been severely damaged by the flood waters of the last three days.

On the Wabash, the water is over the tracks at Gallatin for the second time in five weeks. The morning passenger, eastbound, went as far as Darlington, then to St. Joseph and to Chillicothe over the Burlington. The evening passenger, westbound, will probably come the same way.

In case there is no more rain today or tomorrow, through service may be resumed tomorrow, it was said at the Wabash station here this afternoon.

Unless there is further rain, through service on the Burlington will probably be resumed tomorrow, W. E. Goforth said this afternoon.

The 102 River is continuing to fall, having receded two feet since yesterday afternoon, it was said at the city pump station today noon.

Rain measuring one-tenth of an inch fell in Maryville and vicinity early this morning and today noon.

Rivers and streams throughout the county are reported gradually receding today.

Daugherty's Defense Plays Its Trump Card

Brother Of Defendant Declares Liberty Bond Coupons Were In Part Payment Of Note.

New York, Oct. 5.—The defense of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney-general, on trial for conspiracy with Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, played its trump card today when it placed Mal Daugherty, brother of the defendant, on the stand in federal court.

Daugherty's testimony contradicted the carefully built-up evidence of the government regarding the transfer of certain Liberty bond coupons from Richard Merton, German industrialist, to the defendant.

The witness testified that the $2,125 entered on a deposit slip in his bank at Washington Courthouse, Ohio, on April 30, 1922, and which had previously been traced to Harry M. Daugherty by the government was in part payment of a $2,500 note from Jesse Smith. The remainder of the note was taken up on July 20 and the note returned to Smith.

Nine Los Angeles Officers Accused

District Attorney Asa Keyes Among Those Under Technical Arrest on Charges of Conspiracy.

Los Angeles, Oct. 5.—Nine high officials of Los Angeles County were under technical arrest today on charges of conspiracy and embezzlement, outgrowth of a political war that has stirred the state.

District Attorney Asa Keyes, famous prosecutor of Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist; five members of the county members of the county board of supervisors, and three lesser officials are the accused.

Keyes is accused of embezzlement arising from his asserted employment of unauthorized special prosecutors and in connection with expenditures from his secret service fund.

IN PLEA FOR HIGH TARIFF

FORMER IOWA GOVERNOR SAYS PRESENT SCHEDULE NEEDED.

MUST DEVELOP CITIES

This Is Farmers' Market, Says W. L. Harding, In Kansas City For Republican Conference.

Kansas City, Oct. 5.—"Keep the tariff fence around the United States; maintain living and industrial standards and develop the urban population of the country, which is the farmers' market, and most of all, keep artificial stimulants away from the patient."

This was the message brought here today by W. L. Harding, former governor of Iowa, who is here in a conference with Republicans who are comparing notes prior to the forthcoming November election.

Harding believes the McNary-Haugen bill is not necessary and classifies it as the "artificial stimulant" as applying to farm relief legislation.

"The American farmer's business," he said, "it to feed the country and he has the best job of any farmer in the world. Let us continue to develop our home market. If we will but do this, our farm problem will eventually be solved."

Harding predicted Senator Willis will be elected in Ohio, Brookhart in Iowa, and two Republican Senators in Indiana. He said the election of a Republican Senator in Missouri was "almost imperative."

"We cannot afford to elect a Democratic Congress this year," he continued. "Any dickering with the tariff will tend to lower living standards.

Year Promises to Be Prosperous One

President Of Bankers' Association Says Records Will Be Broken If Good Business Conditions Continue.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 5.—This will be the most prosperous year in the history of the United States, if business continues its present growth, in the opinion of Oscar Wells, Birmingham, Ala., president of the American Bankers association which opened its annual convention here today.

"The cencensus seems to be that business will continue at a satisfactory rate throughout the rest of 1926," Wells said, "and that when the records for the twelve months are completed, it will outrank even the record year of 1925 and stand as the most prosperous in the nation's history."

Other delegates are of the same opinion as Wells.

"There are striking evidences of unparalleled prosperity which we are privileged to enjoy," W. C. Wilkinson president of the national bank division told representatives of that division.

"Industry is thriving at high tide, trade is active, car loadings continue high, bank clearings have recently reached new totals and there is general satisfaction with the business trend," Wilkinson said.

Students Cannot Go to St. Joseph

L. B. Clough, of the Chamber of Commerce at St. Joseph, has been notified that the students from the State Teachers College who were to have visited that city tomorrow will be unable to make the trip because of the unfavorable road conditions. The students probably will go to St. Joseph next week at which time they will visit several industrial plants and will be the luncheon guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

CARDS TAKE THIRD GAME

JESS HAINES HURLS SHUT-OUT AGAINST YANKEES.

ALSO SLAMS A HOMER

Ruether Is Driven Off Mound by St. Louis Sluggers.—Series Now Stands Two to One.

The St. Louis Cardinals took the lead in the World Series today by winning their first home game with the New York Yankees. The final score was 4 to 0.

Big Jess Haines today was the St. Louis hero. He it was who turned the Yankees back without a run, and his home run in the fourth inning, scoring Thevenow ahead of him, gave the Cardinals a lead which the New Yorkers could not overcome.

Ruether was Higgins' pitching choice He was hit hard and was replaced by Shawkey in the fifth inning. Shawkey gave way to a pinch hitter in the first half of the eighth.

The play-by-play report, furnished by radio through the courtesy of Manager Harry Todd of the Hanamo Telephone Co., follows:

First Inning.

Yankees: Combs flied out to Hafey, Haines struck out Koenig. Ruth was out, Hornsby to Bottemley. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Cardinals: Douthit, with the count three balls and one strike, sent a high fly to Meusel. Southworth hit the first ball for a clean single. Hornsby flied to Lazerri. Bottomley forced Southworth at second. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning.

Yankees: Meusel lifted a high fly to Southworth. Gehrigh's high fly to left field was gathered in by Hafey. After throwing three balls to Lazerri, Haines threw three straight strikes and retired the batter and the side. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Cardinals: Bell was Ruether's first strike-out victim. Hafey doubled to left field. O'Farrell hit to Lazerri and was thrown out at first, Hafey taking third. Thevenow's line drive to center was taken by Combs after a hard run. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning.

Yankees: Dugan singled to left field, the first hit off Haines. Severeid sacrificed, Haines to Gehrig. Reuther's high pop foul was caught ith great difficulty by O'Farrell. Combs walked. Koenig went out at first, Bottomley unassisted. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cardinals: Haines beat out a roller to first and was given a hit. Douthit walked on four straight balls. Southworth sacrificed, Ruether to Gehrig, advancing both runners. Hornsby's pop foul was taken by Severeid. Bottomley lined to Combs. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning.

Yankees: Ruth hit a slow ball for a single to center field. Meusel hit to Haines, who fell in fielding the ball but got Meusel at first. Ruth went to second and Meusel was credited with a sacrifice. Here the game was halted by rain and the playing field was covered. Gehrig was out on a high pop fly which was caught by O'Farrell. Lazerri went out, Hornsby to Bottomley retiring the side. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cardinals: Bell singled to center to open the Cardinals' half of the inning. Hafey sacrificed, Ruether to Gehrig. O'Farrell walked. Thevenow hit to Lazerri, who threw out O'Farrell at second, and Bell scoted on the play. Haines then drove the ball far into the right field stands for a home run, scoring Thevenow ahead of him. Douthit went out on a line drive to short. Three runs, two hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning.

Yankees: Dugan flied out to left. Severeid flew out to Southworth. Ruether sent a line drive to Hafey. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Cardinals: Southworth opened the inning with a single just out of Dugan's reach. Hornsby singled over second, advancing Southworth to third. Bottomley hit to Lazerri, who threw him out at first, Southworth scoring. Shawkey replaced Ruether on the mound.

A break in electric power caused a break here in the radio report. There was no further scoring, however, in the last of the fifth and the sixth inning.

Last of Seventh Inning.

Douthit fanned. Southworth was thrown out, Lazerri to Gehrig. Hornsby sent a short fly to second, which Lazerri took. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning.

Yankees: Paschal batted for Shawkey and walked. Combs struck out. Koenig out at first. Bottomley unassisted. Paschal beat Bottomley's throw to second. Ruth hit a grounder to Hornsby and was out. Hornsby to Bottomley.

Cardinals. Thomas pitching for the Yankees: Bottomley singled. Bell hit into a double play. Koenig to Lazerri to Gehrig. Hafey was out, Dugan to

A TALK ON THRIFT.

S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift says: "The question often is asked, 'How can I save anything when it costs me as much to live as my income amounts to?'

"It is not possible to lay down general rules that will fit each individual case in the matter of personal economies.

"It is true, of course, that there are cases where the actual necessities of life cost as much as the individual can possibly earn but the number of such instances is comparatively small. The vast majority of people who do not save anything out of their earnings imagine themselves much more helpless than they really are.

"The point is that they are not willing to endure the temporary inconveniences and hardships necessary in order that they may save a little out of their incomes. So-called hardship is one of the great blessings of a thrifty life. It is through hardship and sacrifice that we are made strong, courageous and wise.

"Those who always follow the line of least resistance are simply fooling themselves. They may escape the sterner circumstances of life for a while but they will suffer in the end.

"Happiness, success, usefulness to others, and all the other worthy things of life are not the gifts of idleness, of temporizing and of dodging responsibilities.

"To those who think the cost of living and the limitations of income preclude saving money, these truths particularly apply.

"The application of more thought to those problems of individual management, the determination to earn a little more and to spend a little less, and, above everything else, the willingness to accept hardship in order to get ahead, will solve the problems in the right way.

"Thrift is sometimes hard medicine to take, but most economic ills can be cured by it."

Looks like Mr. Merton might be a good man for Uncle Sam to send over to Europe to collect his war claims.

Some men get hard boiled and then get soft soaped when the right party comes along.

What Other Editors Say

"I AM WRONG"

According to William Allen White the words, "I am wrong," are the three grandest words in the English language. They are the expression of character and honesty.

Mr. White believes in truthfulness and honesty. In recent comment upon editorial policy he declared that truth, and truth only, will make the editor free—and also make him trouble and trouble which every newspaper office expects.

Mr. White is surely a competent authority on practically everything regarding news, newspapers, and editorials. He has been in the newspaper field more than forty years. He runs a newspaper in a small town in Kansas, yet the whole country knows of William Allen White.

He has been wrong a great number of times, yet he had the courage, character, and honesty to admit it.

For one to admit being wrong comes from the result of doing things. White has done things. And by doing he has learned many things, one of which is to say, "I am wrong."—Columbia Missourian.

Gehrig, for the third out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning.

Yankees: Meusel was out, Bell to Bottomley. Gehrig singled between second and first. Lazerri hit to Thevenow, who started a fast double play, Thevenow to Hornsby to Bottomley, ending the game. No runs, one hit, no errors.

James W. Arnett Is Critically Ill

Word was received today from Mrs. James W. Arnett, who is at Rochester, Minn., that Mr. Arnett is in a critical condition. Mrs. Arnett left for there Sunday in response to a telegram stating her husband was worse. Mr. Arnett has been at Rochester taking treatments since early in August.

Bedford No Better.

George Bedford, formerly manager of the Standard Oil Service station, Fourth and Buchanan streets here, and who is now at the sanatorium at Mount Vernon, is reported in a critical condition. Word was received from there this week.

Roy Miller, who has been living in Wyoming for the last several months, is visiting friends and relatives in Parnell.

Wisconsin Star

This is Bob Kreuz, stellar backfield man on this season's University of Wisconsin football team. The Badger rooters expect great things from Kreuz, who probably will carry no little part of the offensive burden of the eleven. Kreuz also starred on the track aggregation, the javelin toss being his specialty.

Light Line May Be Built to Infirmary

County Court Considers Proposal of Local Company—Vote on Closing of Quail Season Ordeerd.

The building of an electric line from Maryville to the county infirmary is being considered by the county court, to furnish light for the new building now being completed.

The Maryville Electric Light and Power Co. has offered to build such a line for about $4,000, and several farmers who wish to "hook on" are said to have agreed to contribute about $1,000 of the cost.

The old infirmary had a Delco light system.

D. R. Eversole was given the contract for supplying the window shades to be used in the new building.

The court ordered the submission to the voters at the November election of the proposal to close the hunting season on quail for a period of two years. More than 500 voters petitioned for submission of the proposal, and the court was required by law to agree.

"I believe the proposal will carry," said Judge Charles Armstrong. "Some of the most inveterate hunters have told me they favored closing the season so that at the end of the two years they will have more quail to hunt. And the farmers' crops will be better protected from worms and bugs."

Yesterday afternoon the court received more reports of flood damage to bridges and roads.

George Brown headed a delegation from southeast of Burlington Junction to tell the court that a bridge over Sand Creek had been put out of commission. It is on a Quitman mail route.

Clarence Bailey led another delegation from west of Maryville, where a fill, southwest of the county infirmary, has been torn out by flood waters which were too heavy for the culvert at that point. This fill also is on a mail route.

William Jackson, north of Ravenwood, reported a small bridge out at his farm.

The bridge north of Clearmont, on highway No. 71, which was condemned Sunday as unsafe, will require three or four days of good weather for repairs, according to Judge J. N. Billingsley. The piling supporting the bridge have sunk down into the soil as the result of continued softening rains.

1,000 Chinese Taken to Shanghai Hospital

Shanghai, Oct. 5.—More than 1,000 Chinese had been received in hospitals at Kiukiang, and the battle between Marshal Sun Chuan-Fang and Chiang Kia-Shek for the control of the lower Yangtze area was continuing today.

More Leisure Hours For the Housewife

There is no need to wait longer for your Premier Duplex. No need to continue the old-fashioned custom of cleaning the home. No need to beat any more rugs or sweep them with a broom. No need to do your dusting the tiresome, dirty way.

You're done with it all, now, for you can own a Premier Duplex—the complete home-cleaning servant—and pay for it as you use it. You can start right in, beating, sweeping and air cleaning upon your rugs electrically—quickly, easily and dustlessly.

Premier Duplex

A broom has no pity for your choice rugs and carpets. The carpet-beater is still more brutal. But a Premier Duplex with quiet efficiency and never failing thoroughness has banished the wasteful, inefficient "broom and dust cloth" method of cleaning rugs, draperies and upholstery.

Simply make the small down payment of one dollar that delivers the Premier Duplex to your door. Could anything be easier? One year to pay the balance in monthly payments with no interest added. Before you know it the Premier Duplex will be yours—all paid for.

Liberal Allowance

For Your Old Cleaner

We will make you a very liberal allowance for your old worn-out electric cleaner of any kind, or any make and regardless of the condition it is in, on the purchase of a Premier Duplex Cleaner. Here is an opportunity for every housewife in the city to become a proud owner of this wonder cleaner — the cleaner that really cleans.

A NEW MOVE TO OUST "MA"

RESOLUTION TO BE PRESENTED TO LEGISLATURE.

SCHOOL BILLS WAIT

Will Not Be Taken Up Until Regular Session in January—Agitation Against Governor Widespread.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 5.—A resolution asking Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to resign immediately was being prepared for introduction this afternoon into both houses of the legislature at the special session, it was learned.

The agitation against Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, who was ousted on impeachment proceedings, has been outspoken throughout the state for several months climaxed by her defeat by Dan Moody, attorney-general, in her race for re-election in the August run-off primary.

During the campaign, Mrs. Ferguson had promised to resign if Dan Moody beat her by one vote. Moody led Mrs. Ferguson by a big majority in the first primary but Mrs. Ferguson failed to resign. She still refused to resign after Moody was nominated over her in the August primary. She promised to retire as soon as proper school aid legislation was passed by the special session of the legislature in session here now, but the school aid legislation has been postponed until the regular session in January when a new governor will be in the chair.

The Oregon visitors have returned to Barnard where they are visiting Mrs. M. V. Baker.

For Mr. and Mrs. Clemmens.

A reunion of relatives and friends was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Clemmens of near Whitesville September 26, in honor of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Clemmens of Newburg, Oregon. They are on their way home from the G. A. R. encampment at Des Moines, Iowa.

Mr. Clemmens is the state commander of Oregon and Mrs. Clemmens was a delegate of the W. R. C.

The guests all came with well-filled baskets which was served at noon in cafeteria style. The afternoon was spent in visiting and music.

Those present were: Mrs. M. V. Baker, William Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hackett and daughter Moretta and son Dean, all of Barnard; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Brittain, Earl Brittain, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Manship and daughters Lorraine and Martha Jane and son W. FLAME NOT SO HOT NOW

YOUTHS NOT ENROUTE TO DOGS UNIVERSITY MAN SAYS.

COLLEGE MEN BETTER

Athletic Director Sees Good in Young Men—85 Per Cent Do Not Know Bootleggers.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 5.—The "flaming youth" in American colleges does not flame as brightly as it used to, Chester A. Brewer, director of athletic at the University of Missouri, declares.

"All this sensational stuff you read about the younger generation going to the dogs is utteh rot," Brewer said. "College men are better, cleaner-minded, more square shooting, fellows than they used to be when saloons were open.

"I have been active in college life, as student and in connection with athletic departments for the last thirty years there is nothing like the amount of drinking now that there used to be when saloons were open.

"Of course there is a small group here, perhaps a hundred students, who drink regularly and a few who drink only on special occasions, but 85 per cent of the student body doesn't know what a bootlegger looks like.

"Contrary to reports from some quarters, I believe that prohibition has done much to decrease drinking among students. It stands to reason that the easier liquor is to get, the more of it will be drunk.

"Our present day athletic organization, the tennis courts, golf links and so on provide recreation now where the saloon used to provide it in the old days. Between 600 and 700 men come out to the gymnasium every day to take part in some form of athletic sport, and nothing tends to make clean young men more than athletics.

"Observers who criticize present day youth in colleges do not judge the student body as a whole. They read an occasional scandal in the newspapers, or come to a college town and see a few students carrousing around and say the whole of college life is rotten. They do not see the hundreds of students who are in their homes studying."

Nodaway Leads in Teacher Membership

County Is First in Northwest District of Missouri Teachers' Association —Only 14 Not Enrolled.

Nodaway County is still leading in enrollment in the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association, Maryville district, according to a letter received today by Leslie G. Somerville, president of the district association. According to this ranking, Nodaway has 286 teachers and 272 are enrolled in the association, a percentage of 95.1 and with only fourteen yet to enroll.

Mr. Somerville says all the teachers should be loyal to the county by enrolling and helping this county to be the first 100 per cent county in the state.

The rank of districts in enrollment on October 2, 1926, follows:

Warrensburg, 2891 teachers, 1871 enrolled, percentage 64.3, 1035 yet to enroll.

Rolla, 875 teachers, 566 enrolled, percentage 64.6, 309 yet to enroll.

Maryville, 2904 teachers, 1869 enrolled, percentage 64.3, 035 yet to enroll.

Kirksville, 3651, 2020 enrolled, percentage 55.6, 1611 yet to enroll.

Springfield, 3888 teachers, 1702 enrolled, percentage 43.8, 2186 yet to enroll.

Cape Girardeau; 3758 teachers, 1,449 enrolled, percentage 30.5, 2326 yet to enroll.

Dr. Grant A. Robbins to Kansas City Church

Former Pastor Of Maryville Sent From St. Louis To Kansas City Church.

Rev. Dr. Grant A. Robbins, of St. Louis, formerly pastor of the First M. E. Church of this city, has been appointed pastor of the Broadway Methodist Episcopal Church of Kansas City. The following is from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat:

Rev. Dr. Grant A. Robbins, retiring district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church for the St. Louis district, will say farewell to the ministers under his charge this morning, at a meeting at Union Methodist Episcopal Church, 3610 Delmar boulevard, before departing for his new postorate in Kansas City.

Dr. Robbins was appointed Saturday night, after the closing of the St. Louis Annual Conference, to be pastor of the Broadway Methodist Episcopal Church of Kansas City. This congregation has a new church costing $250,000, which is situated near the proposed Lincoln-Lee Methodist University, now in process of erection in the southern part of Kansas City.

Rev. Dr. Franklin F. Lewis, who becomes the new district superintendent here, has been until now pastor of the Broadway Church in Kansas City. Under his leadership the church was built. Dr. Lewis also built a church in Ottawa, Kan., and another when he was pastor in Dakota. He is a graduate of De Pauw University and of the Boston School of Theology, and took postgraduate studies in Harvard.

GET TIMBER FROM OHIO?

DEMOCRATS MAY HAVE ATLEE POMERENE AS CANDIDATE.

LEADERS ARE TALKING

Presidential Nominee May Be Man Who Is Pushing Prosecution Of Teapot Dome Oil Scandal Case.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Democratic leaders here are talking much about the prospect of Atlee Pomerene of Ohio as presidential nominee of the party.

Two years ago Pomerene was retired by the Ohio voters but today the fate of the politics are again pushing him to the foreground.

The latest developments hinge around his activities as special council appointed by the president to prosecute the Teapot Dome oil scandal cases—the scandal which John W. Davis, 1924, Democratic presidential nominee attempted unsuccessfully to make an issue in the last national campaign.

From early reverses and from comparative obscurity of private life, Pomerene has seen his prosecution to date successful and he has taken up the party standard as candidate against Senator Willis for an Ohio seat in the United States senate.

Pomerene was one of the most influential Democrats in the senate until his defeat two years ago when the labor vote of his home state turned against him.

Then President Coolidge appointed him, with Owen Roberts to prosecute the Teapot Dome cases. He and Roberts lost the case in the Cheyenne courts. There were mutterings in the Senate that Coolidge could have chosen council of wider experience.

But this summer when the Democrats were casting around for an influential Democrat to run against Willis, Pomerene was chosen. Now the Cheyenne court has been reversed by the circuit court and Pomerene's prosecution of the case was upheld. Not only that but Pomerene's prosecution of other phases of the case has won to date.

This week Pomerene argues the Doheny case before the supreme court and politicians call this really the opening of his campaign. He is expected to return to Ohio next week to launch his speaking tour.

All these things have resulted in increased discussion among Democrats of Pomerene's chances to get the 1928 presidential nomination. Many southern Democrats have recently indicated a desire to back him despite that fact that he is a wet. He would succeed, it is believed, to much of the strength formerly held by the McAdoo faction of the party and might be acceptable to the All Smith wet ring.

It is expected that if he defeats Willis in November a presidential boom will openly be launched in his behalf.

Fans Are Attending World Series Game

Men Went to St. Louis Last Night on Wabash—Two Others Will Go Tonight.

While many of Maryville's baseball fans were forced to content themselves with a radio report of the third World Series game, played in St. Louis this afternoon, this place also had four representatives at the Sportsman's Park in the river city. They were Charles Butler, Henry Buhler, H. B. Cushman and Floyd Reynolds, who went to St. Louis last night.

Tonight, Joseph Jackson and W. J. Montgomery, will go to St. Louis to witness the game which will be played tomorrow, weather permitting.

Train No. 14 on the Wabash last night carried ten extra coaches which contained more than 500 persons, most of whom were enroute to St. Louis for today's game. Lounge cars, club cars, Pullmans and buffet cars were included in the equipment of the train.

Impossible to Dry Up United States?

Task Cannot Be Completed But Honest Efforts at Prohibition Should Be Made, U. S. Officer Claims.

Pittsburgh, Penn., Oct. 5.—The task of drying up the United States is an impossible one, but nevertheless an honest effort at prohibition should be made, John D. Pennington, administrator fourth U. S. district, told the United Press in an exclusive interview.

"There are too many ways of evading the law to ever make enforcement 100 per cent effective," he said.

"However, the prohibition laws should be enforced. There can be no distinction between laws which can be obeyed or disregarded. If the eighteenth amendment could be repealed, the best way to repeal it is to enforce it."

MILLER SCHOOL.

We are planning a box social October 30.

We have ten pupils enrolled: First grade, Nora May Miller, Charles Burchett, Marvin Burchett, Dwight Dosier. Third grade, Oramay Burchett; sixth grade, Laura Campbell, James Campbell; eighth grade, Roy Wilson, Ruth Ripley, Leonard Campbell. The attendance is good.

Dwight Dosier has been absent for three weeks because of whooping cough.

Roy Wilson had a very painful accident last week by cutting his foot with a corn knife. He only missed one day because of this. Roy is a good worker and likes school.

Lon Eckles, who has been living with his aunt, Mrs. Milt Wilson, is attending high school in Maryville.

Mrs. Emily Ruth and family are visiting Charles Burchett.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Baublitts visited with Mrs. Baublitts parent's, Mr. and Mrs. Mil Wilson Sunday.

Mrs. Louie Randall, from Maitland, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ripley Sunday.

George Campbell visited in Mound City Saturday.

S. T. C. CUBS MEET DEFEAT

RESERVES LOSE TO CLARINDA JUNIOR COLLEGE.

A SAFETY ONLY SCORE

Quarterback Strong Is Downed Behind Own Line When He Misses Bad Pass From Center.

The football team from Clarinda Junior College defeated the State Teachers College reserves yesterday on the College field, 2 to 0.

After fighting scorelessly for the first half, the two teams went into the third period with the Clarinda eleven having a slight advantage on ground gained.

It was in this period that Stitt, Maryville center, made a bad pass to Buster Strong, quarterback. The latter recovered the ball behind his own goal line, but was unable to carry it to safe territory before he was downed.

At no time did the Maryville team threaten to score.

The game yesterday was the first of a series which H. Frank Lawrence, director of athletics at the College, plans for his reserve players.

Hugh Graham refereed, Ted Search was umpire, and Forrest Froman was head linesman.

THE WORLD'S FAVORITE SMOKE-WORDS "HAVE A CAMEL"

Did you ever notice that experienced smokers will offer or ask for a Camel—not just a cigarette? A little observation will reveal the overwhelming preference for Camels—a popularity that has never been equaled in all the history of smoking.

More smokers demand Camels, because Camel is unlike any other cigarette made.

Camel is as different as the rare quality of goodness. This difference costs millions to maintain. The choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown . . . the most skilful blending—that is Camels. More cannot be had at any price. When you light a Camel, you may be sure you are smoking the best.

When invited to have the world's favorite cigarette, accept with pleasure. It will be your personal introduction to the mildest, mellowest blend of choice tobaccos ever produced. "Have a Camel!"

The VANITY CASE

by Carolyn Wells

NEA FICTION

© 1926 by G P PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

MRS. PRENTISS sees lights mysteriously appear and disappear in the HEATH household next door one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog with the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, vivacious, golden-haired, to whom suspicion points because of her refusal to answer questions.

Myra Heath was peculiar: She never used cosmetics, never wore colors. She had a mania for collecting glass, and it was a rare old whisky bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet and nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath." Strangest of all, she was heavily made up and garbed in gay colors.

The peculiar thing about Heath's disappearance is that all the windows and doors had been locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Finger prints of Bunny Moore and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Some believe Heath the murderer. Anderson disagrees. TODHUNTER BUCK, nephew of Mrs Prentiss and in love with Bunny, suggests to Cunningham that Heath also may have been murdered.

EMMA, a waitress in the Heath home tells of Seeing Bunny ascend the stairs about the time of the murder, carrying her vanity case. Later Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Perry Heath telling her Inman is guilty. Bunny breaks down and faints under a grilling by DETECTIVE MOTT, who makes up his mind that she is guilty. Cunningham determines to find Perry Heath.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXVIII

Meantime, Bunny was returning from a motor ride with Mrs. Prentiss, refreshed in body and mind by the pleasant drive and the cheering companion.

For Mrs. Prentiss was greatly taken with Bunny Moore.

When they reached the Prentiss house, that good lady advised Bunny to run and tidy up for luncheon.

And so it was a serene, almost happy looking girl who came down in a fresh white frock and joined Mrs. Prentiss and her nephew at the table on the porch.

Beside Bunny's plate lay a sealed note.

With a murmured word of apology, Bunny opened it and her eyes ran over the contents.

"Nothing important," she said, smiling, and carelessly tucked the missive under the napkin in her lap. But she seemed to have acquired a new interest in life.

She was more animated, she spoke gayly, even jestingly, and once or twice her laughter rang out quite like the Bunny of old times.

Todhunter Buck was fascinated. The rare beauty of the girl, enlivened by a touch of gay impertinence, charmed the young man almost out of his senses.

Mrs. Prentiss watched the young man with secret amusement, for she had seen her nephew fall in love many times, but it seemed to her that this time he fell a little harder than ever before.

But as she left the table, Bunny's mood suddenly changed.

Rising, she dropped the letter from her lap, and when Toddy picked it up and handed it to her, she paled suddenly, and then as quickly flushed again.

"Thank you," she said, but her voice sounded far away, and her eyes looked troubled. "Please, Mrs. Prentiss, may I go to my room for a while? And not be disturbed—unless—unless it's necessary.

Emily Prentiss, with her quick intuition, knew the girl meant unless by a summons of the law.

But she only said, "Certainly, my dear. I'll come for you, if—if it is necessary. Try to get some rest."

Smiling perfunctorily, Bunny went slowly up the stairs.

"Oh, by gosh, Aunt Emily, isn't she just all there is of it!" Toddy cried, clasping his aunt's hands in his own, as he beamed at her.

"Todhunter," Mrs. Prentiss spoke seriously, "if you are really fond of the girl, you'd better get busy and see what you can do for her. For, I can tell you, my boy, she is in imminent danger of arrest."

"Arrest! Aunt Em, you're crazy!"

"No. You're crazy if you can't see where she stands. That man, Mott, has his eagle eye on her, and his claws are itching to clutch at her throat! I tell you, Tod, unless you can find a better suspect, things are going to look very black for Bunny Moore."

"Then I'll find a better suspect! I'll find the real criminal! It's too absurd to connect that baby with crime! You know that, yourself, Aunt Em. You know she is as innocent as a snowflake, don't you?"

"Well, dear, like you, I can't think of her killing anybody, even in a sudden fit of passion. She isn't that sort. Her temper is the temper of a wilful child, but not of a vicious nature. I can read people, and I have faith in Bunny. But police detectives are a dogged, obstinate lot. If they get a suspect in their minds, they bend every bit of evidence toward that theory. They even twist and garble the evidence to fit their own schemes. They persecute and ballyrag a witness into saying almost anything they want said, and then announce it as evidence. You've heard of railroading. Well, Bunny will be railroaded, unless we look alive! There, I've told you my opinions, and as you know, your old Aunt is fairly astute in her judgements."

"You bet you are, Aunt Em! Now I'm going to fly at this thing, and if I can't get at the truth of the business, I know somebody who can."

"Who?"

"A friend of mine—a regular detecatif feller. But I'm going to have a whack myself, first. You see, I've got a hunch!"

"I'm not deeply impressed by that news, Todhunter. I can't think you know a hunch when you see one! If you know a really good detective, you'd better get hold of him than to follow your own silly hunches!"

"I like your pleasant frankness, Auntie, and I believe you're pretty darned near right! But I do want to look into one side of the matter first, and if that doesn't pan out anything, I'll yell for Truitt. That's my friend, Steve Truitt."

"I've heard of him. He's rather celebrated."

"Yes, though he's a young chap. We were college chums, and he's as bright as they come. Well, Auntie, here's my hunch. I think Inman killed the lady. And I think he did it, because he wanted her money. And I think he was not in love with her—no,not by no means!—but I think she was in love with him, and pestered the life out of him. I think he is in love with Bunny—who could help it? And so Myra bored him, and when she begged him to elope with her, he just got mad and—perhaps unintentionally—I mean, unpremediatedly, yet fly the bottle, and it did for her."

"Ingenious enough, Tod, but nothing to back up such a theory."

"Oh, I don't know!" said her nephew, airily, and went off by himself to think things over.

Strolling about his aunt's grounds, he drifted over to the Heath house, and found Larry Inman alone on a verandah.

"Hello, Inman said "take a seat and sit down."

"Care if I ask you some questions?" Tod said, with a straightforward glance at the other.

"Wish you would. I say, I'm up against it—have you any ideas?"

Buck looked at him curiously.

"Nothing but," he returned, "Haven't you?"

"Yep. But they're all no good. Say, I'm told you have a detective instinct—I believe that the technical term—can't you ferret out who killed my cousin?"

"Didn't you?"

Buck shot out the words with such clear-cut emphasis and assured intent, that Inman, instead of showing any resentment, merely replied, "No, I didn't do it."

Suddenly Todhunter Buck's heart fell.

He couldn't have explained it himself, but there was something about Inman's plain statement that carried conviction—a deep conviction—that he was telling the simple truth.

"But, who did then?" was all he said.

"You're in love with Miss Moore?" Inman asked, quietly, and Toddy, having suddenly taken a liking to this calm person, replied, "Yes."

"Then, I'll tell you of the danger she's in. For I'm hoping you can help me to help her."

"You know something!" Buck exclaimed, with a flash of his aunt's sort of intuition.

"Yes, this. I heard a sound on the stairs that night at half past one o'clock, and I opened my door just a crack, and I saw Bunny coming up, with her vanity case in her hand, and looking as white as death, and trembling like a leaf."

"And then?"

"Then, after a few moments, I went downstairs, and found Myra dead in the studio. The candles burning at her head and feet—and, Buck—when I felt of her outstretched arm, it—it was still warm!"

FLOATING KIDNEY CAN BE MADE NORMAL

Either Right Exercises, Taking on Weight, or An Operation May Be the Method by Which This Annoying Trouble Should Be Rectified.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Normally the kidneys are stationary organs, intended by Nature to remain in their fixed places. They are located in the small of the back, held in place by the coverings and ligaments, and pretty well braced by the surrounding tissues.

As a result of accident or disease, one or the other kidney may be partially dislocated. It may actually slip away from its anchorage and find its way to distant parts.

If the organ slides back and forth within reasonable limits, the condition is referred to as "movable kidney." If it departs from its normal location and moves about at will, the trouble is called "floating kidney."

Tight lacing in women used to be considered an important cause. It would be interesting to find out whether the modern corsetless woman is just as frequently the victim of floating kidney. She probably is.

Women who have borne many babies suffer from relaxation of the abdominal walls, with consequent lack of support for the kidneys. This position predisposes to dislocation of the organ. The figure of the modern girl is so slouching and her abdomen so relaxed, that it will be a wonder if floating kidney does not become more common. We should bear in mind the importance of tense and retracted abdominal walls as a preventive of many ills, including this.

Injuries and hard lifting may cause displacement. The pressure of the liver makes the right kidney more liable to this trouble than the left. The force of blows and the effects of lifting are more directly transmitted to the right one.

The victim of a floating kidney may never suspect it. He may have no symptoms whatever. Or there may be a pulling and dragging sensation, and sometimes actual pain in the kidney region.

The importance of the disability is frequently overestimated by the victim. Of course, the organ may turn in such a way as to twist its supplying blood vessels or to interfere with its drainage function. Then there is real trouble. The patient is sick, has fever and great discomfort. The symptoms soon disappear, only to return when the organ takes another flop.

Proper support, given by a pad and bandage, will help. Getting down on the knees, with the chest on the floor, will encourage the return of the kidney by gravity.

Operation is sometimes indicated, the organ being stitched into place.

Very thin persons are more susceptible and a marked increase in fat may help to hold the organ in place.

Answer To Health Queries.

R. A. M. Q.—What should a girl of fourteen years, nine months, 5 feet 4 inches tall, weigh. 2—What will clear up blackheads and pimples?

A.—She should weigh about 117 pounds. 2—Careful diet and regular elimination should bring about results. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Mrs. C. P. R. Q.—What would cause the leaders behind the ear to enlarge? The neck feels sore and my head aches. This condition has persisted over a year.

A.—Find the source of infection. The tonsils and teeth should have careful attention. Your doctor will prescribe for you.

A. B. C. Q.—What will remove freckles?

A.—Equal parts of lemon juice and peroxide will act as a bleach. Apply a good cold cream after using, since the preparation may prove too drying.

Anxious Q.—What will help thin ankles?

A.—Exercise should be helpful, also massage. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

R. N. Q.—How much should a girl weigh who is 14 years old and 5 ft. 5½ in. tall?

A.—For your age and height you should weigh about 121 pounds.

Quitman

SCHOOL NOTES.

All teachers are busily engaged in preparations for the School Fair to be held at the high school building October 22 and 23.

The Quitman basketball team was outplayed by the fast Pickering team in their first game. We hope to get some measure of revenge in the way of scoring when the return game is played here October 13.

The Conception basketball team met defeat here Friday of last week by a score of 24 to 0. The Conception team was late in getting to Quitman and after ten minutes play the game was called on account of darkness. On their return trip the roads were so bad that their car was abandoned and the boys made the rest of the trip to Conception on foot. Conception has a good clean bunch of boys, a credit to any school. Next Friday Quitman plays at Conception.

The American Government class has subscribed for the United States Daily published in Washington, D. C. All statements in the paper are given of official authority and no comment is made by the editors. This gives the class an opportunity to form opinion on government affairs for themselves.

Gail Hamilton of the junior class left school Wednesday of last week to join his brother in Kansas. Gail will finish the school year there.

The average daily attendance for the first school month was 183.3. This is considered very good, considering the rainy weather and the fact that the river lowered the attendance of some of the students.

The agriculture class has taken up the study of wheat.

The arithmetic work books, which are being used by the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades are arousing much interest and a great deal of benefit is being derived from this method of instruction.

The Fourth grade pupils are making health books this week.

The primary and intermediate grades have enrolled in the Junior Red Cross.

The lower hall has shown much improvement due to the appointment of monitors to keep it in order.

Kenneth Thompson is attending the Epworth League Convention in St. Joseph.

At this time (Sunday) the Nodaway River is again out of its banks and travel to the west side of the river is restricted to row boats.

Station WOS Offers Music Appreciation

Contests for Children of Missouri Started From Jefferson City Radio Station Last Night.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 5.—The first of a series of musical appreciation contests for the benefit of children in Missouri, was held over radio station WOS last night.

The contest, planned and sponsored by State Superintendent of Education Charles A. Lee, consisted of forty selections such as school children should know. A similar program will be broadcasted each Monday evening at 7:30 until March 14 when it will close with an orchestra playing the selections to determine the winners of the contest.

Children naming the largest number of the broadcast selections will receive certificates of award.

"Music has never had its proper place in our school system," Lee said, "and our boys and girls as a whole are not familiar with enough good music."

Bowling Green—The base and seats for the Champ Clark monument are being installed. The work will be complete within a week.

IN DAYS OF OUR FOREFATHERS

Women Prepared Their Own Medicines

The wise pioneer women learned to gather, in woods and fields, the remedies the Indians used. From the rafters of colonial houses, hung great bunches of dried roots and herbs. From these, in times of sickness, the busy mother brewed simple and powerful remedies.

From roots and herbs, Lydia E. Pinkham, a descendant of these sturdy pioneers, made her Vegetable Compound. The beneficial effects of this dependable medicine are vouched for by hundreds of women.

Mrs. Wm. Kraft of 2838 Vinewood Ave., Detroit, Mich., saw a Pinkham advertisement in the "News" one day and made up her mind that she would give the Compound a trial. At that time she was very weak. "After the first bottle," she writes, "I began to feel better and like a new woman after taking six bottles. I recommend it to others and always keep a bottle in the house."

Mrs. Gust Green of 401 Lincoln Park Boulevard, Rockford, Illinois, found herself in a condition similar to that of Mrs. Kraft. "I was weak and rundown," she writes, "but the Vegetable Compound has helped me and I feel better now. I recommend it to all women who need more strength."

W. O. Manley Safe at LaBelle, Fla.

Letter Received From Him Yesterday —Tells Of Recent Disastrous Storm In That Section.

W. O. Manley, father of Mrs. Ed Hamlin and Vern Manley, is safe at his home at LaBelle, Fla., following the disastrous storm of several weeks ago, according to a letter received from him yesterday.

A portion of Mr. Manley's letter is as follows:

"It had been cloudy and threatening for several days and everyone had been warned that a storm was approaching, but no one was expecting anything like it was. The storm struck here Saturday morning, about 8:30 o'clock, and it blew and rained until Sunday morning. The wind came in gusts but I don't think it blew quite as hard here as it did at some other places. The highest the wind got here was ninety miles an hour. At other places, they claim it got as high as 150 miles an hour.

"There is lots of timber around LaBelle and that was a protection, but there wasn't a house or business property that wasn't destroyed or damaged. Most of the large buildings were unroofed. Our house was blown off of its foundation. We all went to a hotel soon after the storm started so we were not in the house at the time. It still stands but it leans a little. No one in Labelle was hurt to amount to anything. There was lots of damage done at Fort Myers and a few killed at Cresent Beach below. Myers was completely washed and blown away. Only a few of the more substantial buildings are left standing. The water got about seven or eight feet deep and the waves on top of that. Lots of people were drowned. They have found about eighty-five white people and there are about thirty-five more missing, which they never will find. There were almost as many negroes drowned. I was down the next Wednesday after the storm and saw some of the dead. They could not be identified. They have put everyone out of Moor Harbor except the soldiers and they won't let anyone in on acount of fevers which they are afraid will develop.

"Moor Haven is still under water but it is not over ten or twelve inches deep.

"It damaged the citrus crop in Florida about 90 per cent, they estimate. The ground is covered in the groves with oranges and grapefruit."

Charleston—A new waterworks system, a 100,000 gallon reservoir to be filled by electrical power pumps, a new fire department and water office building are among the latest civic improvements here.

Independence — Business men on West Lexington street here subscribed to a fund to pay for a new lighting system on the street, work on which is now under way.

Troy—Record crowds attended the four-day meet of the Lincoln County Fox Hunters Association, which was held here recently.

HOGS AND LAMBS HIGHER CATTLE STRONGER

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 4.—Flood conditions in Southern Kansas and Oklahoma cut receipts below expectations and the market here ruled strong to 25 cents higher. However, Omaha with 21,000 and Chicago 36,000 had the largest supply of Northwest grass cattle this season and reported a general decline. Hog prices were up 15 to 25 cents and the highest since early September. The general price level is 35 to 60 cents above a week ago. Lambs were strong to 25 cents higher with trade active. Most of the offerings were Western lambs that brought $12.75 to $13.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 28,000 cattle, 6,000 hogs and 18,000 sheep compared with 32,000 cattle, 5,000 hogs and 19,000 sheep a week ago and 36,450 cattle 8,050 hogs and 12,050 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle.

The supply of good to choice grain fat steers was limited and prices ruled strong spots higher. Strong and heavy weights were equally strong with the lighter weights. Yearling steers sold at $11.25 to $11.90, and good yearlings $10.75 to $11. Some medium weight steers brought $11.50 and heavy steers $10.75. Short fed steers brought $9 to $10.50 and wintered steers $8.50 to $9.25. Straight grass fat steers sold at $6 to $8.50. The short fed, wintered and grass fat steers were quoted 15 to 25 cents higher. In Chicago those classes met strong competition from the Northern grassers and sold lower. Cows and heifers were in active demand at strong prices compared with last week's advance. Canners and cutters are bringing $3.75 to $4.75 an unusually high price range for this season of the year. Fat cows are selling at $5 to $7.25; grass heifers $5.50 to $8; fed heifers $8 to $11. Veal calves were 50 cents higher with best light weights bringing $14 to $14.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Prices for stockers and feeders were strong to 25 cents higher and in active demand. Clear weather which is predicted for this week will increase demand materially.

NODAWAY COUNTY FARM NEWS

By BILLY TILSON.

William Morrow, north of Maryville, on the Jacob Melvin farm, reports the bridge across Canal branch east of his place washed out so as to make it impassable.

W. T. Jackson, northwest of Ravenwood, says the drainage ditch will reimburse him for all paid out in the saving of his fine fields of corn and grass as several hundred acres would have been ruined if not for the ditch. In fact, the farmers along Platte have profited the same way.

R. E. Spurgeon and wife, west of Pickering, were Maryville visitors yesterday. Mr. Spurgeon reports a very bad place in the road east of him and all compelled to go that way had better use great care.

Special service was had in the travel from Guilford to Maryville yesterday. Teams pulled the cars through the Platte river bottom west of the bridge that cars came on into Barnard and were transferred across the river there and put into waiting cars and brought to Maryville. Where there's a 'will, there's a way.'

Reports from all over the county show that the roads are in worse condition than in years. A great many bridges and culverts that had been fixed for travel from the former washouts were washed out and mudholes are much deeper than before. It will take several days before travel can be resumed with safety.

The bridge across Sand Creek, southeast of Burlington Junction, near the French Carter place was reported washed out by Mr. Huckelberry, who is living on the Carter farm. He says there are a great many bad places in the bridges and culverts over that way.

C. S. Johnson, east of Clearmont, reports Clear Creek, west of his place about as high as it has been this year from the rains of Sunday and Sunday night. Considerable damage was done to the fences and water gaps which had just recently been repaired.

Gene Zimmerman, east of the city, says he pulled several cars across the river yesterday. In some places it ran into his wagon bed but says he is willing to help keep the travel going.

Charles Jackson and Dick Nelson, west of Guilford, were transacting business in the city yesterday. They report that the drainage ditch has kept most all the water off their land and not much damage has been sustained by them. In a time like this, if it were not for the ditch their whole crop would have been ruined.

W. I. Gray from Ravenwood was a Maryville visitor yesterday. Mr. Gray says travel was pretty bad getting over.

Hogs.

Hog prices were quoted up to 15 to 25 cents today making the sixth consecutive day of the advance, and taking the general price level 35 to 60 cents above a week ago. The 14 cent price was paid for the first time in several weeks. The 190 to 250 pound hogs sold at $13.65 to $14; 260 to 280 pounds $13.25 to $13.65; 280 to 325 pounds $12.75 to $13.25; 140 to 180 pounds $13 to $13.75; packing sows $11 to $12, and stock hogs and pigs $13 to $13.50.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lambs advanced 15 to 25 cents compared with last week's close, and sheep held steady. Most of the offerings, Western lambs, sold at $12.75 to $13. Native lambs brought $11.50 to $12.50; ewes $4.50 to $6.50; wethers $7 to $8; yearlings $9 to $10.50 and feeding lambs $11.75 to $12.40.

Horses and Mules.

Trade in horses and mules was quiet at unchanged prices. The slump in cotton prices has checked southern demand.

Municipal Turkish Bath Keeps Villagers Young

Leeds, Oct. 5.—The city fathers have put Leeds in the van of progress by establishing "beauty baths" for men and women.

The Corporation owns three different Turkish baths, with two classes for men and one for women. This week they have introduced trained attendants who will give the citizens of Leeds expert massage, especially face massage and special treatment for masculine waistlines.

"We find the crowfeet and other marks of advancing years yield readily to massage when the skin is relaxed in the Turkish bath," said the municipal superintendent.

The good news has spread to Harrogate and Bradford and the women are flocking to Leeds to enjoy this latest development in municipal activity.

Fulton—A new fire brick plant will probably be built here. Officials of a Mexico, Mo., fire brick company were here last week and announced they would close their option on a site for the plant.

Harrisonville—A peach tree in this city, now bearing fruit, is blooming also, a phenomenon never observed in this community.

Macon—Mrs. Louisa Viola Hockett, who died last week, was the daughter of "Aunt Mary", characterized in one of Riley's poems.

Japanese Girl Shoots Lover in Movie Style

First Case Of Its Kind In History Of Country—Young Woman signs Contract With Movie Company.

Tokyo, Oct. 5.—Miss Aiko Fukaya, 17-year-old miss of New Japan, who is the first young lady of this land to turn a gun on a lover who has proved disappointing, is running true to the Hollywood form. She has just signed a contract with a prominent movie producer and proposes to realize on all the publicity that came her way after she pulled the trigger.

Miss Aiko, petite, bobbed-haired and flapperish in the modern way, disdaining kimono in favor of knee-length skirts and refusing to be a clinging vine, such as most of her Japanese sisters are taught to be, likewise turned against the youths of her own land and cultivated those from Western countries. She made life in Japan less lonesome for the embassy secretaries and a number of the young business men of the Kobo and Tokyo yoonder set. Her affections finally centered on a dashing Italian, who occupied a cottage in the grounds of the Italian embassy.

Calling upon him one evening she found him cold, when reminded that he had promised to present her with a diamond ring he was wearing. Wearied of asking him for the ring, suggested the good old game of "Close your eyes and open your mouth," and the youth fell for it.

With eyes tight shut and mouth widely agape he waited for the next move. He got it in the shape of a 32-calibre bullet at a point due south of the solar plexus. Opening his eyes, but leaving his mouth as it was, he dashed for a doctor.

Miss Aiko was arrested, tried in a glare of publicity and when released was told to go and shoot no more.

She will start on her first picture immediately.

Chillicothe—A shoe factory has been virtually assured for this city, since a $50,000 bonus fund needed to bring it here has been nearly raised. It will employ from 200 to 300 workers.

Edina—Silver fox farming is the unique industry proposed here. Plans are now under way for the organization of such a business venture.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Better weather and lower cables forced grain to a close below that of yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat was unsettled throughout the session because of these factors and sold off sharply about noon on the Winnipeg break. Futures were 5-8 to 7-8 lower while cash prices were 1 lower.

Corn did not get very far either way but had a weak undertone. Weather showed improvement in many sections, but news of more rain in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa tended to steady values. Futures closed ¼ lower while cash values were ½ lower.

Oats was again a featureless affair with but little change in price. The cash article was steady while futures were ¼ lower.

Provisions dropped to a new low for the season because of the heavy deliveries of lard on October contracts. The high hog values were ignored.

ANOTHER GAS BLAST FEARED

RESCUE WORKERS HAMPERED BY FUMES.

RECOVER FOUR BODIES

Another Located But Cannot Be Brought To Surface—Thirty-One Trapped In Coal Mine.

Rockwood, Tenn., Oct. 5.—The danger of another gas explosion loomed today as rescue workers slowly penetrated their way into the workings of the Roane Iron Co's. coal mine here seeking to recover the bodies of twenty-three miners.

All hope for the recovery alive of the men trapped by a gas explosion yesterday has been abandoned. The gas fumes issued forth in great volume and leaders of rescue operations expressed fear that the coal has caught fire and that there was a possibility of another explosion at any moment.

Four bodies have been recovered and the body of another miner was located but could not be brought to the surface because of the deadly fumes.

The bodies recovered are Harry Lingo, whose head was blown off, George Riddle, Hector Smith and Will Elliott, jr. The body of the fifth miner was believed to be that of G. C. Stevens.

The number of men trapped by the blast has been definitely established at thirty-one. Four bodies were taken from the mine and four others rescued, leaving a total of twenty-three still in the mine, all of whom are believed dead.

T. E. Cash of the federal bureau of mines at Birmingham, Ala., has taken charge of the rescue work but the deadly fumes have hampered the work of bringing the bodies to the surface. Several hundred persons are grouped about the mouth of the mine which is on the side of a high hill. Guards are stationed along the road to keep the crowd away from the entrance.

Elks to Initiate Four at Meeting
